

COURTESY PAY PROTECTION SERVICE DEBIT CARD OVERDRAFT SERVICE

What is an overdraft?

When you do not have enough available funds in your account to cover a check or other item, we consider the check or other item an overdraft, or non-sufficient funds item. We offer several protection plans to help you manage your account.

The standard overdraft service we offer links your regular savings account to your checking account. If you have other accounts at First Basin, such as a money market account, another savings account, or a line of credit loan that you want linked to your checking account, you must request this service and specify the source of the funds to be used for the overdraft. When you do not have enough available funds in your checking account to cover an item, we may automatically transfer funds from the available balance in the “linked” account(s) to your checking account. There will be a fee charge for the transfer, however, the fee may be less expensive than any other service and should be your first choice for a protection service.

Courtesy Pay Protection Service

We realize there are times when you may have an occasional or inadvertent overdraft. When you do not have enough available funds in your account to cover a check or other item, we consider the check or other item a non-sufficient funds item. To help avoid the potential embarrassment, as well as the fees charged by merchants, we offer a courtesy pay protection service to eligible checking accounts for checks you have written, debit card transactions, recurring charges, and for automatic bill payments. We don't promise to pay every overdraft, but if you maintain your eligible account in good standing, rather than automatically returning unpaid any non-sufficient funds item, we will consider payment of your reasonable overdraft item(s). You will be charged our Courtesy Pay fee for each item that creates an overdraft on your account, but the item may be paid.

Please refer to the Rate and Fee Schedule for the applicable fees. Courtesy Pay Protection is a discretionary overdraft privilege covering checks, debit card items, automatic bill payments, and recurring charges from your checking account.

How does Courtesy Pay Protection work?

As long as you maintain your account in good standing, First Basin Credit Union will consider honoring overdraft transactions up to the Courtesy Pay Protection limit on your account. If you use Courtesy Pay Protection, you should remember the credit union's Courtesy Pay fee for each transaction will be deducted from your limit. The credit union will not notify you when an overdraft occurs and no interest will be charged on the overdraft balance. Please refer to the Rate and Fee Schedule for the applicable fee.

How do I know when I use the Courtesy Pay?

You can log into your Online Banking to check your balance. Remember, you should subtract the total charge, including any fees that apply, from your check register. The charge for paying an item is the same as for returning an item.

What if I go beyond my Courtesy Pay Protection limit?

Overdrawing your account above and beyond your established Courtesy Pay Protection limit may result in a check(s) being returned to the payee and transactions not being paid. The Courtesy Pay fee will be charged per item and assessed to your account. No notice will be mailed to you, but you will have access through Online Banking to your account balance.

How quickly must I repay my Courtesy Pay Protection?

If we overdraw your account, you agree to repay us immediately, without notice or demand from us. We may use deposits made to your account to pay overdrafts, fees and other amounts you owe us. If we overdraw your account to pay items on one or more occasions, we are not obligated to continue paying future non-sufficient funds items and may stop paying your non-sufficient funds items and decline, reject, or return them unpaid without cause or notice to you. You should make every effort to bring your account to a positive balance. If, after 45 days, your account has not been brought to a positive balance, we may have no option but to close your account and take other measure to recover funds you owe us. If your account is charged-off, it will affect your credit score.

What is my Courtesy Pay Protection Limit?

Your Courtesy Pay Protection limit is $500.00. This limit is not included in a balance accessed through the telephone teller, Online Banking or any ATM or debit card processing network.

Will the Courtesy Pay Protection limit be available with my debit card?

For certain recurring transactions, your Courtesy Pay Protection may be available with your debit card.

What you need to know about Overdrafts and Overdraft Fees

An overdraft occurs when you do not have enough money in your account to cover a transaction, but we pay it anyway. We can cover your overdrafts in two ways:

1. We have standard overdraft practices that come with your account.
2. We also offer overdraft protection plans, such as a link to your savings account, which may be less expensive than our standard overdraft practices. To learn more, ask us about these plans.

This notice explains our standard overdraft practices.

What are the standard overdraft practices that come with my account?

We do authorize and pay overdrafts for the following types of transactions:

- Checks and other transactions made using your checking account number
- Automatic bill payments

We do not authorize and pay overdrafts for the following types of transactions unless you ask us to (see below):

- Everyday debit card transactions
- We pay overdrafts at our discretion, which means we do not guarantee that we will always authorize and pay any type of transaction.
- If we do not authorize and pay an overdraft, your transaction will be declined.

What fees will I be charged if First Basin pays my overdraft?

Under our standard overdraft practices:

- We will charge you a fee of up to $30 each time we pay an overdraft.
- There is no limit on the total fees we can charge you for overdrawing your account.
